She was transferred to Thammasat University Hospital because of suspicion of placenta percreta on ultrasonography and was operated. It was performed with a wide exploration from the initial placental incision to the lower abdominal incision. The whole uterus and its contents were removed, and the patient was referred to an intensive care unit because of profound hypotension after the operation. She stayed for 48 h in ICU and the postoperative period was uneventful. 4. DISCUSSION {#sec1-4} ===== In this article, we present two case reports of perforated ectopic pregnancy after mifepristone treatment leading to surgical removal of the entire placenta. Perforated ectopic pregnancy is one of the severe complications of pregnancy, and it is almost always caused by sexual intercourse. In contrast to early pregnancy, ectopic pregnancy can be caused by both sexual intercourse and abortion, but the ectopic pregnancy is usually located in the cornual region of the uterus and its fallopian tube ([@ref2], [@ref3], [@ref6], [@ref7], [@ref8]). If patients have a past history of ectopic pregnancy, in the current pregnancy, their future risk of ectopic pregnancy rises ([@ref

You can sneak up on them, wait until they're distracted, set them up for a sucker punch or just go big, all at once. While you're playing a game like League of Legends, finding a carefully-planned attack isn't the only option that you have, but it's definitely an important one. A lot of games out there let you plan out attacks, but when you're playing a MOBA like LoL, you don't have the same luxury. At first, I was pretty frustrated when the going got tough. I had no moves, and this meant that I couldn't "free farm" at all, which was a bummer. I also couldn't wall-ride because it wasn't an option for me. This effectively forced me into a corner at first, since the only place I could go was up, which means only one thing... Attack as a Jungler. LoL comes with a concept that a lot of other games don't have, and that's the Jungler role. This is the role where a lot of games have an ADC, but in League of Legends, you have a Jungler. This character is normally your mage or marksman, but it's really your job to go around the map and clear out waves of minions or use your champion to take down towers in order to rack up gold. This means that you're able to stealthily get to crucial positions that the other players can't, since they're looking for you and your team to do that. I normally go for the Mage as my primary, because I enjoy trying out new and old champions, but I've discovered that having a dedicated jungler can be a lot more fun. 3ef4e8ef8d
