International Society for the Advancement of Cytotherapy and Oncotherapy-The InCYTO-2020 meeting is planned for September 14-18, 2020 in Budapest, Hungary. This is the first international meeting on cytotherapy and oncotherapy which will showcase the advances and the latest in the basic science, translational, and clinical research of this burgeoning field. The meeting is also for young investigators, junior faculty, and students from all over the world. The broad and long-term goals of the meeting are to encourage growth and development of cytotherapy and oncotherapy research, to communicate, exchange, and collaborate. To achieve these goals, the InCYTO-2020 conference will combine the best in basic and clinical research in this field. We also want to emphasize to the broader scientific community and the funding agencies that the current model of cancer treatment with chemotherapy, surgery, and radiation alone is not enough in many cases. Rather, complementary and/or complimentary treatments will become standard in many scenarios in the future. We also want to highlight the potential of cellular therapy (including immune cell therapy) and gene therapy in cancer treatment. Cytotherapy and oncotherapy are multidisciplinary fields that include oncologists, hematologists, surgeons, pharmacologists, biologists, physicists, chemists, biochemists, and immunologists. These fields apply scientific and medical research to the improvement of cancer therapies. For example, one can use targeted drugs to treat specific mutations of a cancer and cytotherapy/oncotherapy to boost the immune system to kill cancer cells. The meeting will highlight the latest developments in each of these fields and discuss how they work together for cancer treatment. It is the first time a meeting in this field is planned, and thus, the InCYTO-2020 conference will provide a forum for networking, education, and discussion of this exciting field. The top two-thirds of this meeting will be devoted to presentations and discussions, and the last third will be a poster session. The meeting will start on September 14th, 2020 and end on
