Android ListView position based on JSON file returned I have JSON file that looks like this:

{"id":109,"Name":"Hi","Image":[{"image_url":"","id":"2"}, {"image_url":"","id":"3"}]}

How can I display this in ListView? Here is my Adapter:

public class JSONAdapter extends ArrayAdapter { private final LayoutInflater mInflater; private final JSONArray jsonarray; private final ArrayList images = new ArrayList(); private final String KEY_IMAGE_URL =
"image_url"; public JSONAdapter(Context context, JSONArray jsonarray) { super(context, R.layout.simple_row, jsonarray); mInflater = (LayoutInflater) context
.getSystemService(Activity.LAYOUT_INFLATER_SERVICE); this.jsonarray = jsonarray; } public JSONArray getJSONArray() { return jsonarray; } public Image getItem(int position) { return images.

Game of Thrones The lead-up to the release of Game of Thrones' seventh season has been filled with hype, teasers, leaks, and now, a trailer to promote season 7. The trailer comes only a week after an exclusive IGN documentary debuted, which was filled with behind-the-scenes footage from Game of Thrones' production studio. Since that time, more exclusive footage has been shared, including a digital drawing of Daenerys Targaryen that hit the internet. Game of Thrones' eighth season was officially confirmed earlier this month, with an official release date of December 6, 2018. Read More » Game of Thrones will return for its seventh season on April 24, 2017, HBO confirmed earlier this week. The show's seventh season will consist of 10 episodes and will be the shortest run since the show debuted in 2011. However, the seventh season will be the show's longest since the 2009 season. Game of Thrones' seventh season is the first since 2011 to run for fewer than 10 episodes. HBO programming president Casey Bloys told The Hollywood Reporter that the network will closely monitor the final season to make sure it runs as long as possible. "I think that it's hard to have a shorter season but I think it makes sense for season 7," Bloys said. "We're going to be very committed to making the most of it." Read More » If you missed the SDCC footage from the Game of Thrones Season 6 set, we have the exclusive behind-the-scenes look from the set. First up is a game of Thrones cast photo, and then we have an in-depth interview with Emilia Clarke, who spoke of her love for British style, the style of the show, and much more. Fans were happy to see the series returning to network TV for its sixth season, and an extensive line of product has been released in anticipation of the show's season, as well as the seventh season,
