Layers: You can work with layers all the way through, and layer masks enable you to manipulate a photo's individual layers, either hiding or showing the layers to create an interesting effect. the sieving matrix of a vial by the trapping of a fraction of solution in such an arrangement. The nonporous nature of the material will not trap particles as small as desired. To partially overcome this problem, the Patent discloses a sieve containing a greater volume of porous material and a lesser volume of nonporous material with a wire mesh interposed between the porous and nonporous materials. It is apparent from the prior art that a major problem exists with respect to complicated structures for fractionation of radioactive fission products and other compounds and materials in general. The more effective and efficient the apparatus and structure for accomplishing these fractionation processes, the more valuable the processes and apparatus will be. The flexibility of the present invention and of its applicability to a wide variety of fractionation processes of the type described herein, will also enhance its overall value and usefulness. It is, therefore, an object of the present invention to provide an improved structure for accomplishing fractional distillation processes and methods. Another object of this invention is to provide an improved fractional distillation structure and method for purifying or selectively separating different materials or components of a mixture. Another object of this invention is to provide a fractional distillation structure and method in which purified particles or solutes may be kept or retained in such structure and be substantially free from impurities for immediate or continued assimilation into a biological system or the like. Another object of the present invention is to provide an improved fractional distillation structure and method in which reagents may be selectively brought into contact with different particles or molecules in the structure to accomplish a desired function, such as selective absorption of reagents which may then be separately analyzed. Yet another object of the present invention is to provide a structure and method for accomplishing fractional distillation in which a material to be treated, such as a radioactive fission product, may be retained in the structure to facilitate the fractional distillation process. Other objects, advantages, and features of the invention will become more apparent from the following description and appended claims, and from the accompanying drawing.
