We have developed a freeware software client and server capable of seamless file transmission over the internet. The cost of our communications protocol is virtually zero, while the security of the communication is above industry standards. Our software is easy to use, supports many file formats, and is free to download and install. While it is our goal to make our software free for all, we encourage donations to fund R&D. What is the best ways to share files these days? The most used of these are web hosting services and email services. However, in this age of viruses, file hosting services have the reputation of being unsafe, and email services are a major expense. What most people don't realize is that both of these methods actually transmit information in the clear, and they are both expensive! ReadyToGo, Inc. has developed a protocol which is virtually free, yet has very high security. Its implementation is simple and easy. Now imagine that your file is encrypted, using any method, and then transited over our communications protocol, where it is decrypted and sent over the internet! Imagine that when your recipient receives your file, it is automatically verified for viruses before being decrypted. Once decrypted, you can then re-encrypt your file and send it to anyone else that you choose, such that it has been encrypted from its original transmission point to its new destination, and is now in an untraceable format! Imagine how inexpensive this would be, but yet how secure it is! We are very excited to share this with you!

- New! Privacy with Ease - What if you could keep your private information totally private? Well that is exactly what the ReadyToGo server does. When your user signs up for our service, a specially encrypted form of their information is sent, along with their strong public key. Your private key is then encrypted with the public key that they received. They then communicate to your terminal, or other computers, using our Secure Communications Protocol.

Q: How to get the right axis tick label while plotting the graph in ggplot2 I wanted to plot some d3.js graph that will show me the traffic between the countries. I used ggplot2 so I can benefit from the advanced features of ggplot2. I would like to know how to set the right axis tick labels (ex. Pakistan->India->China). Instead of showing every countries' name, I would just like to show the largest 3 country name (ex. Pakistan->India->China). I would like to know how to do so.

library(ggplot2) data(gdp) data(world) data(worldgdp) data(worldairports) # Set your GeoJSON data path city = "world/countries/gdp" country = "world/countries/gdp_min" distance = "world/countries/airports_min" # Set the Province and City data for the world world = readOGR(dsn = city, layer = world, layerOptions(world_start = NULL, world_end = NULL, world_type = "SpatialPolygons"))
