Get good things to happen in your life by using this Yoga in the Jungle app. The Yoga in the Jungle app was created to help users benefit from a yoga experience in the wild. Users are able to create their own personalized yoga retreat experience with the app, including easy-to-understand explanations of different yoga postures, and relaxing images that are compatible with the users music tastes. As users create their own experience, they will also be able to experience other users' custom creations on a personalized user board of people who have created a custom experience. It is an app for beginners and yoga enthusiasts alike. No prior experience is required to get started. The app will help you improve your focus, reduce stress, relieve pain and learn new things. The app is fully interactive and supports interaction in your mind with sounds, images, 3D effects and more. More than just yoga. This app is based on the many benefits of meditating. It focuses on calming the mind, balancing the emotions and improves well being. Users of the app are able to enjoy more than just yoga on their mobile device. Like with any meditation app, this app will not teach you how to meditate, but will enable you to meditate in a more natural way and have the user experience yoga on their own terms. You can also try the app by watching the Yoga in the Jungle Demo. ----- Create your own personalized experience With the Yoga in the Jungle app, users are able to create their own personalized experience where they can interact with people in a personal and unique way. Yoga in the Jungle offers users the ability to create their own custom meditation experience, where they can access interactive meditations in the same way that they can listen to their favorite music or watch a movie. The app enables users to share their custom meditation experience with others and even collect other people's custom meditation experiences and share them with friends. The custom experience creation process is
