With FreeCelloTuner you can re-tune your cello to the natural sound of a cello in a short time. The software enables you to calibrate it to a pitch of C2, G2, D3 or A3, according to the pitch frequency of the piano. Moreover, you can tune it to a baroque pitch, a New Philharmonic pitch, a Concert pitch, a New Berliner Philharmonic pitch or a Renaissance pitch. You can adjust the re-tuning, when you hold down the mouse cursor or play the chords. With FreeCelloTuner, it will automatically create a new pitch calibration. However, the new pitch is not necessarily the one you have on the cello. The software offers the possibility to record the re-tuning process and to keep it for future reference. You can then download the cello re-tuning files, create your own customized chord charts, listen to your tunings and compare them with the pitch of your cello. Moreover, if you use a multiple of instruments, FreeCelloTuner helps you record their pitches and make an automatic pitch calibration of each of them. Features: – Easy to use – Authentic sounds for your musical instrument – Tuning frequency: 440 Hz, Baroque, New Philharmonic, Concert, Boston Symphony Orchestra, New Berliner Philharmonic or Renaissance – Adjust and record the pitch of your cello – Record the pitch change during your playing – Play, record and export several instruments, using the cello as the reference – Make your own custom chords chart – Export audio files to keep the tuning recordings – You can use the FreeCelloTuner.com website to find and download the free cello tuner and chord chart for your cello Frye Cello Solo is a complete music software with a powerful, easy-to-use interface.
