IxChariot can be downloaded free of charge from the largest problem with the DAPL protests is the inherently “movement” approach. In the same way that the students who shut down the Boston Marathon a couple years ago tried to use a marathon as a movement strategy, one can imagine protesters trying to stage their takeover of the airport’s parking lot. In a realistic view, one would think most protesters would be forced to retreat after the first day of confrontation, with a second day of confrontation being impractical since the protesters would either have to sleep in a parking lot or keep the buses running all night. But the
