Hard Drive Upgrader Full Version

Hard Drive Upgrader lets you quickly upgrade your hard disk to a bigger size without losing any files. The software creates a backup before copying the data from the source hard disk to the new hard disk; the backup copy remains on the new hard disk. This means that if anything goes wrong with the copying process, you can restore files from the backup copy and continue. The current version of Hard Drive Upgrader works only with FAT32 and NTFS file systems, as it uses direct FAT and NTFS file system APIs to copy data. It can copy up to 12 volumes into a single machine, and it can copy data from external USB drives as well. Other Features: The Software is compatible with Microsoft Windows XP, XP v2, Windows 2000, Vista, Vista x64, Windows Server 2008, Windows Server 2003 x64 License: Hard Drive Upgrader is freeware. Supported platforms: Windows XP, Vista, Vista x64 Disclaimer: This software is provided "as is" without any express or implied warranty, including, but not limited to, warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. How to Install and use Hard Drive Upgrader. 1. Download and install.ISO file (2MB) available for free at: 2. Extract the ISO file by double-clicking it and using the following option: "Open-with-Open-Bios-Upgrader-Installer" Note: The.ISO file must be extracted to a directory on your computer. 3. In the new directory, you will find a file named "adb.ini", which must be used to identify the device that you have connected. You can rename this file "adb.ini.backup" just for safety. You can use the default path /dev/adb in the adb.ini file, this is sufficient for most USB-serial, but you can replace that with the appropriate address of your device by typing it in the adb.ini file. 4. Copy the files of the OpenBios usbupgrade.
