Versions: 1.5.0 What's New: Upgraded from 1.4.0 34. Check Events Calendar 5.1.0 Description: CheckEvents is a small program that creates an events calendar for your desktop which shows when appointments, meetings or events are taking place on your local system. It is very helpful as a tool to keep track of time-related business and/or personal activities in your home or office. For example, it can be used as a diary or calendar to mark time-related events. The list of events can also be used for planning where to go. For example, you can use events as a GPS navigator, showing you where to go in a certain time- window. Also, the list of events can be used as a check for computer classes when conducting a demonstration or for the student schedule when teaching a course. For more information, see What's New: - The map support for all major Linux/BSD/BSD_like operating systems (BSD with or without init 2 support, Solaris, FreeBSD, OpenBSD) now includes U.S. states and Canadian provinces. - Low-memory support - Added a new calendar view that can be switched between list and calendar mode. - Some minor improvements. 35. custom html-based themes with CSS, Win2k, WinXP, Mac OS 9.2, Win7, Mac OS 9.1, Win95, Win98, WinME, K95

When looking for an application for a presentation, We (Gumroad) are the perfect choice. The PayPal App is your one-stop shop for PayPal. It helps you send and receive money quickly and securely on the go. Whether you are paying for an item on eBay, using PayPal for mobile e-commerce or managing a business account, the App is the all-in-one solution you need. We designed the PayPal App with you in mind and hope you find it easy to use. How does it work? PayPal Apps work at the core of eBay's mobile transaction infrastructure, and are designed to mimic the experience of using PayPal on eBay. With PayPal App, you can send or receive funds with your PayPal account in various ways, including via eBay's mobile Payment Wallet or from your checking account. To send a payment, simply add the recipient's email address to the "To" field and the amount to be paid. Confirm your identity, then you are ready to send your payment. As an added benefit, you can choose whether your payment is made using Paypal Account, Paypal Credit card or PayPal Wallet. Paypal Account allows you to specify the amount to be transferred and can be saved for future use. Using the Paypal Credit card or Paypal Wallet option, you can choose any PayPal Credit or Paypal Debit card or PayPal Wallet to be used for the transaction. Transaction details are listed as items are sent and can be selected to view the transaction. The balance of the recipient's PayPal balance or your Paypal Account and Credit or Debit Card can be viewed at any time. Want to make money from the App? In addition to sending payments from the PayPal App, you can also receive payments from it. Let your friends and family know about
