eleven is an ancient japanese deity who became one of the six constellations of the crescent moon, and was sealed away by the diabolical dragon king to hide from him. when the elder dragon king, in search of a new body for his dark servants, confronted the dragon kings of the constellations, he confronted the diabolical dragon king, who had eleven summoned from the void. eleven and the other dragon kings convinced the elder dragon king that the elder dragon king was the true ruler of the universe. they attacked and tried to defeat him, but the elder dragon king called upon the seven dragon kings to save him. in an effort to force the elder dragon king to break out of his seal, eleven ordered the diabolical dragon king to kill his constellation. the diabolical dragon king agreed, and attacked the elder dragon king in an attempt to escape. eleven's son, fukusuke, fled into the void and thus, the seal held. as compensation for the elder dragon king's kindness, eleven then founded the suikoden religion. sinful humans rebelled and broke out of prison, where they promptly looted god's stores of magic. when a new wave of rebellions threatened to break out, god sought to rely on the assistance of his two offspring. satan was eager to help, but in exchange for liberation, he demanded earth, which was surrounded by the magical barrier provided by gods' own creations to stop any further breaches. god refused, until satan agreed to stop his conquest, hand over his newly made prisoners, and empty hell of all demons. the three worked together to make a massive replica of earth in order to hold up to the demonic onslaught. as the gate leading to hell was closed, satan was imprisoned once more while god initiated the second plan on earth. god's new creation was almost completed, until sin entered hell and trapped lucifer under sisyphus's wheel of damnation.
